SATURDA NOVEMBER 14, 18[illegible]

EDITORIAL AB-USE.

There is probably no place on the face of the earth where political animosity is carried to a greater pitch than in the city of Buenos Ayres. In the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland there exists very strong party feeling created by contending interests, and fomented by religious differences. In this country neither of those causes can be said to operate. The interests of the Federal Unitarist are identical, and of 'colorado' and 'blanco' the same. All parties profess the same religion, and yet notwithstanding this id utity of interest and religion, the most exasperated party hatred is lamentably obvious. Such being the case, many will inquire whence these eternal revolutions, these personal attacks, these cut-throat principles? We answer, because in these countries the advancement of individuals, not the prosperity of the country, is the sole fountain spring of party strife; and for the attainment of this purpose nothing is respected, neither the law of the land, nor even the character of private parties.

A more glaring instance of this immoral conduct cannot be given than the recent attack of the 'Tribuna' upon the Bank of Maua. Granted that Flores had a right to raise the standard of revolution—granted that the Chacho is justified in besieging San Juan—granted that every subject has granted an inherent and constitutional right to rebel—the character of private individuals should be respected, the conduct of even the most revolutionary editor should be circumspect.

If in the cities of London, Dublin, or Edinburgh, a newspaper editor was found so destitute of honour and principle as to publish the most lying reports and slanderous stories respecting a bank which had many Whigs more than Tories, or vice versa, what, may we ask our readers would be the sens ation of the public? Would a respectable man, of either party, be found to subscribe for so infamous a sheet? And ye in the polished, cultivated, go a-head city of Buenos Ayres, with the exception of a few spirited English merchants, we doubt if the 'Tribuna,' by its recent puerpuras or tirades, has lost a subscriber. Even in the city of New York, where editorial abuse has become almost a bye-word, when the 'Herald' attacked the 'Mechanics' Bank in 1852, not a merchant in the city would allow the ruffian journal into his office.

The principles of the 'Tribuna' are so objectionable, its politics so unofficial, and yet it has once so great, that we have always regarded it as the principal enemy to the prosperity and advancement of this country.

Three-fourths of the population believe, at this moment, the Maua Bank of Montevideo to be broken, simply because the 'Tribuna' says so. Three-fourths of the population believe the Flores' revolution proper and justifiable—it comes the 'Tribuna' states it.

Three-fourths of the population believe Cook in Holland, the editors of the 'Standard' rampant Federals, and Hector Varela the admiration of Europe —because the 'Tribuna' affirms it.

There is not a newspaper published in this city, which has the courage to attack the 'Tribuna,' save the 'Standard.' We wage war against this journal on principle. Great as is its influence over the unsophisticated and too credulous public, truth and justice must eventually triumph over slander, revolutionary dogmas, and corruption.

The Baron Maua has just cause of complaint against the 'Tribuna' and its editors, but the country itself has still greater.

The liberality of the Maua Bank in this city has been proverbial. We doubt if we exaggerate, when we assert that hundreds of native shopkeepers have been rescued from bankruptcy by the timely aid which they have received from this institution. Impressed with the conviction that the Baron's influence in this city is superior to that of the 'Tribuna,' we entreated the editors of that paper against persisting in slanders and calumnies, which never fail to throw odium on themselves, and can lead to no good results.

IMPORTANT FROM CORDOBA

The 'Ferro-carril' has dates from Cordoba to the 7th inst. On the 3rd, Governor Ocampo, to the surprise of the Chamber and people, handed in his resignation, stating that the excitement of party-feeling prevented all hope of his managing with success the affairs of the province. The 'Imparcial' mentions that the Chamber was occupied in the discussion of Sor Echegaray's colonization scheme, when the document was read, only a few of the members being in the secret. The party of the felonious ex governor Posse attempted to oppose the measure, and wished to elect a Governor pro. tem. (for 6 months). The choice fell on D. Roque Ferreira, whom the 'Imparcial' praises as a model citizen and fit ruler.

Letters from Catamarca, of 27th ult., confirm the previous report of forcible contributions, exactions, and other Gendi ti peculiarities. Fourteen of the principal citizens were cast into prison for refusing to pay this 'black-mail;' among the number was the ex Governor of the province, Don Pedro Cano: eight, however, were released on bail, on the 26th Oct. A small force was sent to rescue Sor. Maubucin' and his son, captured by Pio Achaval, but a band of Achaval's followers routed the rescuing armed detachment. Great agitation prevails.

Gen. Paunero writes from San Luis, 29th ult., to Col. Domingue, that a messenger has arrived from Mendez inforning him that the Chacho, discomfited by Arredondo's attack, was retreating towards the city of San Luis, pursued by the latter. The two brothers Segovia, who gave a thrashing to the criminal judge, Sor. Mendoza on Oct. 20th with their regiment of the line (9) and 30 Nat. Guards, for the seat of war. Paunero concludes that the Chacho will now leave San Juan unless cut to pieces.

CRIME AND PUNISHMENT.

The 'Democracia' of Gualeguaychu relates a horrible occurrence at Pay Ubre. A drivable person, named Peña took into his house a wretch who was nephew to the infamous bandit Puerto Barcena, of Oribe's army. This ruffian having left the hospitable roof, returned one evening last week, when only Sor. Peña's daughter, a girl of fourteen years old, and another lad were there. He seized the poor girl, drag ged her from the room, and committed a criminal assault; but a servant of Sor. Peñalvir passing by, heard the girl's cries and gave alarm. When the neighbours assembled they found the ruffian had fled, and the girl bereft of reason and speech. Everybody thought Barcena must have cleared out for the woods; but what was their surprise to find him next morning quietly sleeping in the rancho. On being arrested by them he laughed at threats of punishment, telling them he was a friend of the commandante, Colonel Barjes, who never tried him by a popular assembly, which at once cried out 'Shoot him!' Seeing that his request was not attended to, on this signal sally, he was most justly shot Barjes shot him a few hours after.

PAUL JULLIEN'S BENEFIT.

On Wednesday evening Paul Jullien shone with his usual brilliancy before a highly delighted audience. The variations from 'La Linda de Chamounix' was rapturously encored, also the 'Serenir' from Bellini, applause continuing until M. Jullien stepped again before the curtain. Between the third and fourth acts M. Jullien produced a peculiar instrument of his own invention, being a kind of reed, which emitted, under his skilful treatment, a sweet, though peculiar harmony.

The musical portion of the evening's entertainment was concluded by P. J. playing variations from 'Mayseder,' on one string of his violin, an achievement which elicited hearty and prolonged applause. We were surprised to see the house so poorly filled, more especially as this was said to be the talented violonist's last performance in Buenos Ayres. It appears, however, that we shall again have the pleasure of hearing him on Sunday next.

The Spanish piece, 'The Man of the World,' merits no more praise, than would suggest that, for the credit of the company, when a book has to be produced during the performance, the discriminating and literary actor would choose some more entertaining work than a simple book containing diagrams of, and quotations for, sundry hardware.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

By some unhappy circumstance when saluting our Argentine colleague the "Mercurio" we mistook the name of the paper, and called it the "Comercio," which paper happened to be lying before us. Our Oriental colleague of that name takes the matter up rather seriously, and asks us in plain English what in Heaven's name we mean by saluting the "Comercio" so cordially, and yet charging it with siding with Flores and his gang. We hope our Montevidean colleague will excuse the mistake; we avail ourselves of this opportunity to express the veneration and dignity of the "Comercio," which is an evening paper, well edited, and we are happy to say well supported. Like the "Standard" it sides with no clique or party, but merely labours to support the legal Government of the country, and put down the native mania. We are sorry to say we cannot speak in favorably of the 'Mercurio,' a paper recently started in this city, as we perceive it sides with Revolution.

DANGEROUS PREDICAMENT.

It was rumoured through town on Thursday that several unfortunate Montevideo Orientals had been tracked in the river by a Montevidean man-of-war. They were obliged to run into a little Island at the mouth of the Guazú, where they were blockaded. One of these poor fellows escaped miraculously, and reached Buenos Ayres on Wednesday when the news spread, the whole city was in a ferment; several vessels were immediately put off, amongst the rest an Argentine war steamer, to rescue these unfortunates from another Quinteros. On Wednesday, in Congress, the Minister of the Government was questioned on the matter, but stated that he knew no more about it, than what was the general report. Meantime the alarming conviction is gaining ground that these Orientals, if not cut up outright by the blanco soldiers, are probably eaten up by the tigers, or starved to death, as the vessel was expected in port yesterday evening from the Island, but has not yet arrived.

LATEST FROM PATAGONES.

By the steamer 'Corrientes,' we have the latest dates from this distant settlement.

The drought is becoming alarming, and if rain does not speedily come, the whole wheat crop, which is greater this year than previously, will be totally lost.

The Indians remain on the most peaceable terms with the inhabitants, and are constantly arriving with fea thers, wool, and hides.

The greatest activity prevailed in the salt beds and woods, and immense quantities of the latter have been cut down.

THE 'VANDERBILT'

We read in yesterday's 'Nacion Argentina,' an extract from the 'Mercario' of Valparaiso, respecting this celebrated United States' war steamer. The master of the British barque, 'St. Bernard,' Captain Williams, which entered Valparaiso on the 6th October, from Swansea, states that on the 10th August, in latitude 2.3 deg. South, longitude 4.31 deg. West, Brazilian waters, a steamer appeared in the horizon, which made towards him, and fired a shot right across his bowsprit. Lieutenant boarded him, and demanded his papers. Having examined them he inquired of Captain Williams what he knew of the Alabama, and the officer replied, asking him what motives he had for supposing him such; he stated lost he had heard that the 'Alabama' was in that region: he also stated that this vessel was not the 'Alabama,' but the 'Vanderbilt.' He then returned to his vessel. Furthermore, Captain Williams states that the steamer was a paddle.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

A distinguished city broker has favoured us with the following important news—Since closing my letter, it is said that the President has turned all the Ministers out." As this information bears the stamp of authenticity, we suppose we must believe it.

We call our readers' attention to a rather interesting correspondence from Entre Rios, from the pen of a talented fellow-countryman. We wish we could secure the services of a few more correspondents of the same calibre.

The 'Reforma Pacifica' has a tremendous attack on the 'Standard.' We wonder what the 'Tribuna' people will "say now. The greatest proof of our impartiality and independence is, that both the 'Tribuna' and 'Reforma' abuse us. Neither of those papers can understand the motto at the head of the 'Standard,' 'Nil falsi audeam nil veri non audeam dicere.' We defend the legal government of Montevideo, not because it is a 'blanco' government, but because it is the government of the place, and as foreigners we are bound to respect it: but it is not for this reason that we are to wink at every shameful conduct as that which we have too often to record of the government troops.

We expect the Mersey on Monday, but may have European news from Montevideo (per Brazilian steamer), to-morrow.

Another column is Father Fahy's mild, dignified and Christian reply to the infamous calumnies of an anonymous writer in the 'Tribuna,' who is, however, well known to everyone. Happily all classes in Buenos Ayres know the character of our esteemed Irish head priest, and need no explanation. A native gentleman has justly remarked "you will not be able properly to appreciate him, until you have to deplore his loss."

No paper but the 'Tribuna' would disgrace its columns with the slanders shovelled at our worthy and exemplary pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Schmidt, German missioner for 7 years resident in Peta gonia, is this city on his way home. He is en route for Europe, and takes with him a vocabulary comprising 1700 words of the Indian dialect of that remote region, which he will probably publish.

Waldino Urquiza's troops are getting unruly; one of the soldiers used insulting language, the other day, when Waldino sent him under arrest to Paysandu. On the way, the fellow contrived to escape, and lieutenant in charge, and the latter being irritated shot him through the head.

ENTRE-RIOS.

We have the 'Uruguay' of the 10th inst. It contains correspondence passing severe strictures on the ultra-local party in Buenos Ayres. The elections for Provincial Deputies have resulted as follows: Don José Sagastume, Concordia; Gen. Basabilbaso, Gualeguay; Col. Teofilo Urquiza, Villaguay; in the last department Don Maximiliano Gonzalez has a walk over.

The Supreme tribunal of Entre Rios has sent a circular to the Justices of Peace, stating that various complaints have been made of the inattention of those officials, sometimes absenting themselves for days together on months. It is therefore ordered that each Justice shall sit for three hours every day, the only excuse admissable being ill-health.

The ladies of Concepcion are annoyed with the Chief of Police, for having stopped the band of music in the Plaza, until the Pyramid and walks be concluded.

PARAGUAY.

The first anniversary (Oct. 15th) of the recent President's election was celebrated with great rejoicings. There were Te-deums, and "sortija" for 11 days. Inaugural railway-station was the scene of a grand banquet, followed by horse racing and dancing the 'gomita,' in which we are told an Englishmechanic astonished the natives by his agility. Bull-fights were also the order of the day, at the capital. The towns of Rosario, Concepcion, Ita, and Pasco Patria had similar celebrations. The bull-fight at Asuncion lasted 3 days, 130 animals being brought into the ring, of which number 32 were dispatched by he 'matadore.' The fortress of Humaita had Highwoman, salutes, and a military banquet. The Cathedral clock of Asuncion is out of order.

The 'Semanario' mentions the notes of the Paraguay Government to Pres. Mitre demanding explanation for having allowed the infernal expedition of Flores; ridiculing at the same time the 'Nacional' threats of invading Paraguay. The reports of the crops are favorable, the hot weather has commenced, plentiful rains have fallen, no locusts have appeared, and the tobacco trade is improving.

Imports for October, $23,361. Exports $205,450. Duties $19,426.

Another Indian Invasion

The following important letter was published in the 'Nacional' of Thursday evening:—

"We have just seen a letter from a well known estanciero, dated Guardia de la Esquina, 9th inst., in which it states:- 'At this moment, which is nine o'clock, a.m., I am informed by a chasque,' that the Indians, in great numbers, have invaded Cruz Alta, four leagues from here, and that they have divided themselves into two great bodies, one of which has set off for the estancias of Sr. Fregueiro and Martinez, and the other for the establishments of Sota Moyo, Moreno, and Don Juan Molina. We send this news in order that the government may adopt some measures to save us."

This is the seventh invasion we have suffered now within a short time.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

We perceive the following important notice in the Montevidean papers. As we consider it highly interesting to many of our readers, we publish it in English.

THE MAUA BANK & CO.

Interest on the French and English debt.

The payment of the interest for the first half year, on the French and English debt, will be made on and after the 12th instant, from eleven to two o'clock, on business days, to the holders of the certificates or bonds, or their attorneys.

CURRENCY AND LOAN BILL.

A Patagonian is happy at the con clusion of "an Astec's" article in Sunday's Standard, stating that he must decline a continuance of a controversy brought on by him, and which he terms personal. The following original appears private, and naturally expected manner:

His last letter states that "he (new no correspondence unfavourable to the present Chamber of Buenos Ayres," and we find ourselves obliged to quote his own words to bring them to him, he is evidently forgetful.

"Rosas, than whom no vegentine, &c., &c., ordered a barrowful of grass to be put at the door of the Legislative Sessions, thus plainly intimating that he looked upon the representative men who 'there did congregate' as a set of grasses.

Astec (than whom no foreigner, &c., &c., implied though not expressed) proceeds "Last night's asinine proceedings," &c., &c., before the public entitles them to be presented in public with a cartload of thistles. These are complimentary, and I am An Astec."

This is a parallel case of offence and retribution, and an attempt at a parallel in Rosas' than whom no man of great perception according to Astec) and the "modest" Astec himself.

So far as regards Astec's sentiments on the Chamber,—and enough we believe.

With respect to his statement of the "grasses" being got out of the difficulty with considerable ease (See Standard, November 6th), by calling to mind the "Latin adage "se non e vero e ben trovato" which is just the phrase that will fit any other story of equal veracity to Guillivor's travels or those Munchausen and adventurers. We are inclined to think that he makes frequent use of this, to him, highly useful sentence.

But we are naturally very much surprised to see an Astec endeavouring again to bring the exploded story into the topics, after having escaped so neatly out of it. This exercis even the culminted quantum of obstinacy of Walter the Testy in Knickerbocker's History of New York.

It is not true that a Patagonian has acknowledged Indarte as author of that work. A Patagonian must this time call an Astec to order and cry "fair play."

The many impertinent remarks of his last letter cannot offend us, as they evidently proceed from his natural disgust at finding himself so much in the wrong, and we have no intention of fanning the flame, lest he perish in his own cartload of grass (hay by this time).

We beg to decline his offer of a thistle, for we are not concerned with "auld lang syne," but with good personality we will recommend him to keep his grassy sentiments to himself though they may hurt his breast; he will be liable to make fewer mistakes and improper remarks.

(The writer did not vote in favour of the 'Ley de Ternas.')

A PATAGONIAN.

STATE OF THE PROVINCE.

General Paunero has at last taken his departure from Cordoba, leaving us with the disagreeable doubt on our minds as to whether his presence and prolonged stay in a place like Cordoba, a perfect hotbed of political passions, has not been more prejudicial than advantageous to the happy organization of the country.

Paunero, leaving a regiment of the line in Cordoba, has gone to San Luis no doubt with the object of treating with the "King of the Llanos."

The treating appears to be somewhat humiliating, but we do not look upon any arrangement as dishonorable to the country, which may put a stop to the disgraceful state of Rioja and the surrounding provinces, and which will avoid for future, the repetition of such fearful expenditure of blood and treasure as has already injured the National Government in reputation and in pocket.

Catamarca is still the victim of a few unprincipal men, who, aided by an armed force from the neighbouring province of Tucuman, are committing the most arbitrary acts, and obliging the best men of the province to seek safety in flight.

San Juan is still in a disturbed state on account of the proximity of Mr. and Mrs. Chacho; it is well known probably to our readers, that the wife of the former is a sister to Mrs. Sosa famous as a partizan fighter than even her husband, and has had her forehead cut open with a sabre cleft in a single hand to hand combat.

The machinery for the mining company of San Juan, purchased in Europe by Major Rickard, has arrived at Rosario, and the Inspector general, and part of it has been already dispatched to the mines.

Mr. Rickard has also left for the same destination, and we hope the mining operations which will be so materially aided by the new establishment will soon acquire in importance that they are so justly entitled to.

Mendoza is just now in the vortex occasioned by the election. The old Governor after having died, some half dozen candidates are striving to get into his shoes.

The province of Santa Fe, has, within the last month, shaken off the apathy which has characterized it during two years of great prostration.

The visit of the Governor of the province to Rosario has had a beneficial effect, and has given rise to many acts of public utility.

Gigantic arrangements have been made with European capitalists for the establishment of banks of emission. The indefatigable Urquiza has commenced. The streets are to be paved, and the town to be lighted with gas, to make it more worthy of being the starting point of the great intercontinental railroad, the Cordoba section of which is already guaranteed.

Large tracts of immigrants for this province has arrived. These do not belong to the contract for thirty thousand made by the house of Werner and Co., but from the result of a brilliant little provincial operation to the Governor, who is inducing a copious immigration simply by the offer of a few acres of land in fee simple.

Baron Maua's bank has received orders to commence the issue of paper notes, and as this institution enjoys unbounded credit in this province, the measure will be extremely advantageous for the commercial community.

But the event of the most immediate importance for Rosario, and we may say for the whole Confederation, is the acknowledgement by the Congress of the debt of the former Government, and the sanctioning of the Government decree making the interest payable in London.

The Provincial Legislature of Buenos Ayres has refused to sanction to the proposed loan, to place the Bank on the same footing as other banking institutions: that is, with the object of giving it a metallic basis.

The Provincial paper money of Buenos Ayres will consequently soon be in the position of that of Irish Law, or of the assignants of the French revolution; because the omission of notes redeemable on presentation, in gold, in all parts of the Republic, and even in Buenos Ayres, must destroy the false prestige which surrounds the irredeemable paper of the bank of the province of Buenos Ayres.

Entre Rios is quiet, thanks to the sensible measures of General Urquiza. Commerce is still paralyzed however, notwithstanding its great natural advantages.

The colony of San José, however is in a flourishing state. It has eighty estancias of ground dedicated to the cultivation of the silk-worm, and the produce of this year will amount to at least one hundred thousand dollars. A tract of three hundred cuadras, or 12 hundred acres, is to be added to the area in the coming year.

The saladeros or killing establishments, on account of the rise in beef and tallow, will soon recommence operations.

THE LATEST NOVELTY

The Grand American Panstereopticomorama!

We are happy to learn that the novelty-loving public of Buenos Ayres will shortly be gratified by the exhibition of a new American spectoral instrument, called the "Panstercopticomorama." By means of an oxyhydro-calcium light, composed of three gases, combined by chemical processes, a picture of more than 20 feet in height can be presented upon a screen, with all the vivid colouring of Nature.

The proprietors are now making their preliminary experiments at the Victoria Theatre, where they soon intend to open with a carefully-selected assortment of pictures of eminent men, battle scenes, illustrating the present American Civil War, views of celebrated places, ancient and modern, statuary, chromotropes, and comic pictures, sufficient to form a varied series of entertainments. The recently-invented apparatus of Dissolving Views will be produced shortly, for the first time, in South America. By the latest advices from the United States, it appears that this exhibition is attracting crowded houses in New York and Boston, in spite of the natural weariness of spirit produced by the actual war.

Letter of V. Rev. Father Fahey.

Buenos Aires, Nov. 14.

SIR—My attention has been again called to a letter in the "Tribuna" of the 12th instant on the subject of Dr. O'Reilly and the South African mission. If my name called on me to deposit their subscriptions, I should have to hand them to the Rev. Mr. Cullen: there was nothing derogatory to the character of Dr. O'Reilly in such a reply. I am not in debt for the Convent of Mercy, as I have endeavoured to pay the last farthing, unless perhaps some trifle may be due to Mr. M'Donnell, the builder. The convent, chapel, and schools cost upward of one million dollars; the ground north of the Chapel was bought at the suggestion of the Sisters for eighty thousand dollars; they calculated that they would receive fifty thousand dollars from Ireland, which they agreed to give in part payment, but unforeseen accidents obliged them to spend the money in taking home a sick sister, and bringing out others in her place; consequently I was obliged to borrow the money until such time as we could collect it from our people. I never collected one million of dollars during my twenty years residence in the country for all our charities. When Father Kirwan and myself collected through Europe, we published our list together. Since then I collected about one hundred and ten thousand dollars for the purpose of establishing an Irish College. I paid for the building and land together with the improvements three hundred thousand dollars. I still owe two hundred and am paying interest on it. As to the ground the convent is built on, it is made over to the Irish people for ever.

I have no control over it, as any one may see who will call at Cabral's office. The land I bought for the hospital, as well as for the college, were bought in my name, but as soon as they are paid for I shall make them over as I did the Convent land, for the benefit of the Irish people. As to my money I got from the English Government or any Consul, it will be easily found out by applying at the English Consulate. As supported the late Mr. O'Rorke for many years gratis: he made a will leaving me a share in any money that might be recovered out of a bad debt in Montevideo, but this was in gratitude to myself for supporting him for so many years in my house. In answer to the question, whether I am a friar or secular priest I reply I am a friar—I have devoted my life to the service of the people—I got a dispensation from the Apostolic Nuncio to spend whatever I received on the mission for the benefit of the poor; I hope I have done so. As to my lending five million of dollars to a wealthy merchant, I could not lend him five hundred of my own. As the Lord will judge me shortly, and I am forced in my own justification to state it, I declare most solemnly before God that I am not worth five thousand paper dollars in the world. Many poor people have deposited their money with me from time to time to manage for them, but I am not conscious to myself of anyone ever having complained or called a second time for their money.

I have no idea of building an immigrants home: all I wish to establish is the College and Hospital for poor females; when they are paid for I shall sign over the documents for the benefit of the poor.

Such is a simple statement of how I am circumstanced. If any one wants further information they would act more charitably by calling on me, and I shall afford them every satisfaction.

I am, sir, your obt. servant,

A. D. FAHEY.

SHEEP-FARMING IN E. RIOS.

Concepcion, Nov. 10, 1863.

Dear Sirs—As it is awfully hot up here at present, and I have nothing better to do, I will send you whatever news about this place I know: but first I must tell you that between riding about in the sun and eating of raw beef, I have become the colour of a red Indian, and have some of his instincts, at least towards yourselves, for I am under the painful necessity of informing you that if you do not send me up my letters by the last mail from Europe, which are in the Post-office, Buenos Ayres, and also the Supplement of the 'Standard' with the European news, I shall be obliged to scalp you on my return to town; and if you will take my advice you will submit to the operation quietly, because it will be less painful and sooner over. If you are friends will stare when they see you afterwards. Life is not thought much of here. During the last five days two murders of women have been committed. One worthy native shot his wife (about his supper, I believe), and the other man served her the same night to Banda Oriental; and the other playful individual cut the throat of the woman with whom he lives in a palpable and went over the water to Charlie (Flores). The police did not give them selves much trouble in the matter. I believe they went down to the landing place at the port the day after each murder, and, not finding the murderers among the crowd, they took one of the cigars, after which they returned to breakfast. There is a very fine college here capable of containing 400 youths, who are supported entirely by the National Government, and supplied with clothes; but such is the apathy of the people, that at present there are only 70 boys at college. The education is of the best class, and the chief (Mr. Clark) is an excellent person, and much respected by all. He is a native of Europe such a college would have thousands of applications for admittance.

This is a very fine-and easy sort of place. The chief has given me a nice billiard-room of my hotel, where I saw my washerman in a pair of Parisian boots and leather coats, and he politely offered to play me a game, and they are not 25 points in 0, for an ounce or two, but I did not seem to see the arrangement. Everything here is in the same republican fashion. The Cathedral is a very large building, but in all my life—either in Europe, Asia, Africa, or America—I never saw such an unheap of bricks and mortar (the outside), excepting always the London Great Exhibition of 1851. The service seem well performed, and the attendance at Mass good according to the population, at least so far as the fair sex is concerned. There is also a club here, also a small theatre. An opera company may be expected when the wool season be gins, but I have not heard of Mario, &c., is engaged. At present we are to content ourselves with some strolling rope-dancers. As regards the country here, it is splendid, and I should say they were in every way far better than in the province of Buenos Ayres. A league of good camp, with plenty of running water, can be had now this town at a rent of say £20 to £10 per annum; and for £300 to £400 you can buy. There is always wood to be had near, for the cost of cutting, &c. The cattle and horses are all fat, notwithstanding the want of rain. Good sheep are dearer than at Buenos Ayres, say 20 per cent. Peon's wages are 200 paper dollars per month. There has been a great shipping this year of wool and lambs here that there was south of Buenos Ayres last winter, and I have been told at times the number of lambs has been on the whole very fair, but in some places there has been bad losses. Wool and hides are bought on the spot at about the same price as in town; and the ships for Europe load here, thus saving all charges. Now, as I have said, I like it here, I could live here, I think one is nearer to Buenos Ayres than at 25 leagues from town, because the steamer comes four times a week, and I would much rather pass twenty-four hours in a comfortable steamer than twelve in one of the horrible 'diligencias' of the country; and as for your life in the camps, you are quite as a safe on this side the river as in the south province of Buenos Ayres. The whole produce of your stock can be got to market at much less cost. However, this is a matter of taste, and if one likes to buy land at £8000 per square league instead of say £400, or to rent at £350, instead of £40 per annum, all I can say is that I have his way and I will have mine.

We are a very pleasant party here. We have our friend countryman, Dr. Jno. Hay, here with whom I looked up to by all, and his in a very short time quite won the good opinion of the whole town and neighbourhood, and is therefore doing a large and increasing practice. We have also a well-known American gentlemen in town, who is very intimate with Hayden, and some Spanish gentlemen. So altogether we pass our time as well as could be expected by poor fellows in the back woods of Entre Rios. As for Charlie Flores, he and his are one now near Montevideo, and have some 5000 men and eight guns in all, and I hear that they catch Medina before he gets safe to town, they will do to him as I mean to do to you when I get back to Buenos Ayres, if you do not send me my letters and supplement.

Dear sirs, ever yours till we meet,

DONNYBROOK.

P.S.—The employés here and selections look very badly and thin, for they have not seen the colour of an almighty dollar (government) for some months. Pray help them.

ON 'CHIGUE.

November 13.

The ounces business to-day was pretty brisk. Government paper was also suffered a still further depreciation. The brokers seemed in good spirits. Ounces opened at 437, and closed at 438½. Cash sales 1957.

The great feature on the Bolsa to-day was the mass meeting respecting the proposed change in the specie quotations. The meeting was well attended, and was what may be termed interesting and amusing. Mr. Drabble, on Chairman of the Board of Directors, occupied the chair, with Mr. Lavalle as secretary. The locality selected for the holding of the meeting was not the best, as a set of distinguished merchants, in order to catch a glimpse at the sedentary orators, were compelled to perch themselves on the speculation rail, black-board platform, tables, chairs, &c.; even some were compelled to mount on the top of the 'algibe' to the imminent risk of their lives. Mr. Drabble opened the proceedings by explaining to the assembled multitude what it was all about. He stated plainly and distinctly the dispute existing respecting the Patacon and Doubloon, and we need not say that, down in the Bolsa, he was not concluded requesting any gentleman who had any observations to make to speak.

Mr. Casares made some inaudible attempt to explain the matter more fully.

Mr. Reynolds, in his usual decisive manner, stated the objections to the proposed measure; he urged that we were all assembled to make a standard coin for the benefit of the whole country itself was destitute of any coin whatever, save a contemptible copper inconvenience, or a still more contemptible substitute, the paper dollar.

It was painfully evident that two-thirds of the members had a rather indistinct idea of the meaning of the motions put by the chairman, as we remarked ounce brokers voting in favour of merchants, and merchants in favour of bankers. As such an outcome was this carried, that our reporter, who is of a peculiarly sensitive nature, was obliged to retire from the meeting in order to avoid incipient difficulties, which were rather unpleasantly obvious.

After a lengthened effort to explain the matter, the grand motion was put as to whether or not doubloons should be ejected from the Bolsa, which, ounces admitted, it was all but unanimously carried by the rather objectionable display of what the doctors term 'extremities,' that were seated and not doubloons, should henceforth be the standard. Many who considered the business of the day of small account, assumed their hats, and strolled through the hall, but as several important motions had yet to be put, the bell sounded, and the order called, when we could really testify to no positive disorder going on, if we except the efforts of a certain well known produce broker to bonnet a reputable barrister for incautiously remaining covered.

The subsequent motions elicited a pleasing diversity of eccentric opinions and arguments. Mr. Iregyzen betrayed a nervous apprehension of an invasion of Brazilian doubloons, but, that severe vexvigus would so flood the place, that every broker should learn English, a third, that ounces must become patois up in French silks. Mr. Santa Maria, who seemed to be perfect master of the subject, in an able speech to the point, thanked those concerned here, I

The brokerage was next the subject under consideration. After a rather spirited speech from an interested member, it was decided that the full brokerage should be one-fourth, that is, one-eighth in each party.

The week market is looking very dim. One lot of 1000 arr. was sold to-day in the Once Settiembre at 9½. In fact, we may state that the quotations are as follow:—

Best Mestizas	88 to 94
Second best	80 to 88
Mixed	65 to 80

We hear that the Baron Mauá has, through his agent here, secured the 'Tribuna' from the United Court.

We have received from Rio Janeiro the latest New York price current of N. D. Carlisle and Son and extracted the following remarks:—

Wool.—The transactions this week, by private trade, have been small; buyers have, as usual, arrived for the auction sales in Boston and New York, which have now passed, and the probability is there will be no more for the present. There is but little doing in the market for public sales, and we hope to see now a more steady, settled trade. All July and August market has been extremely quiet. Consumers generally are working on short stock, and they must come into the market ere long. The following sales are reported this week; 200 bales Cape at 32 1/2 a arr. 35 cents; 50 do. Cordova, 37 1/2; 100 do. low grade Buenos Ayres, and 20,000 lbs. Mestizo, on private terms; some lots Donskoi, 39 cents. 40 cents; and 50,000 lbs. Texas, 71 1/2. The auction sale on the 19th passed off with only tolerable spirit. The sale was got up chiefly to dispose of 500 to 600 bales Donskoi, on the announcement of which, other Wools were offered, and a catalogue of about 2800 bales was made. The extreme heat of the weather deterred many buyers from other parts of the Country from attending, which detracted very much from the general expectation. Prices ruled very low for some descriptions, while others brought about their value. 819 bales in all were disposed of out of 1000, which was the original quantity advertised. All the Wool offered was disposed of, the bulk of the Donskoi was withdrawn, and some of the California and South America.

Some few other unimportant items were then introduced, but the private altercation was so loud that it was preposterous to attempt to catch the words of the chairman or his unintelligible secretary. The meeting then dissolved.

English and French Seminary,

93 CALLE INDEPENDENCIA 96

On Monday, January 4th, 1864, will be opened at the above address a seminary for young ladies by Miss STUART, recently arrived from England, where she had some years experience in teaching, as also in Paris. Miss Stuart is imparting a thoroughly grammatical education in the English and French languages. As Miss S. intends receiving only a limited number of pupils early application is respectfully solicited. A few young gentlemen will be admitted, but not above the age of seven years.

Prospectuses will be issued shortly, wherein all particulars will appear.

ENGLISH GRAMMAR SCHOOL,
CALLE LARGA DE BARRACAS

Dor—Mr. Pongerard, of the London Normal Society Colegio.

This Establishment, which from its foundation has been pre-eminent by the principal British families of Buenos Ayres, is to enjoy additional run of an English school where a sound commercial education is combined with the acquisition of the French and Spanish languages is imparted to the pupils, and based upon the same system as in all first class. Her public institutions of the kind.

An unremitting and constant superintendence, strict maintenance of order, and personal care, are sufficient guarantees, that the health and morals of the pupils are carefully attended to.

The different branches taught in the English Grammar School comprise the English, French and Spanish languages, History, Geography, Arithmetic, Book-keeping in all its parts, Writing, and Religious Instruction.

Extra branches, such as Latin, Mathematics, Gymnas, Music and Drawing, are also taught by special masters.

The situation of the English Grammar-School, in one of the most ... eligible Quintas of the Calle Larga of Barracas, at the very gates of the city, is one of the most healthful and picturesque of the environs of Buenos Ayres.

SAVINGS BANK.
BANK MAUA & C°.
— No. 103 calle de Cangallo. —
BUENOS-AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt, and appreciated in these great emporiums of the River Plate—Montevideo & Buenos Ayres—that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the Bank in which they place the most confidence

The Bank of Mauá & Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working class in that city, a safe & profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of Clerks, artisans, workingmen, servants of all classes & conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of sickness or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries and other frivolities

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city following the example of their firm in Montevideo now offer the same facilities in this city and will open on the 1st October a "Savings Bank" at No. 103 calle Cangallo from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on week days; and on Sundays and holidays from 10 a. m. to 12 m. for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a Pass Book in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited, in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles and always directed to promote the general welfare.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres September 19th 1863.

p. p. Mauá & Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE.

CONDITIONS.

1st. The Bank receives at interest any sum from Twenty five dollars currency or one silver dollar upwards.

2nd. The interest allowed is six per cent [6 p$] per annum which is liquidated every six months

3rd. The depositor can at any time retire the whole or part of the money deposited.

4th. Once the amount deposited exceeds Twenty five thousand dollars currency or one thousand dollars silver the depositor if he wishes can open an account current according to the rules established by the Bank.

5th. In case the depositor loses his Pass Book it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

COLLARD AND COLLARD'S
PIANOFORTES.

E. having been consulted by Messrs. Collard and Collard, manufacturers of Cheapside, London, with a great number of Unsolicited Piano Fortes purchased by them in this City, and finding that the Instruments were of Second Class quality, I feel it necessary to notice to their reputation to avoid the purchase of such, as all Pianos bearing their manufactory are accompanied by a certificate as to their quality, and I am sorry to say that I have found it necessary to refuse Pianos bearing the name of Messrs. Collard and Collard, as I could not conscientiously recommend them to my friends, and I therefore request that my name may be considered as not connected with the sale of any Pianos bearing the above name, unless accompanied by a certificate from me on the subject, by reference either to the makers or to Messrs. Lewis and Marks, 244 Regent Street, London, or to Messrs. Wessell and Nunes, Wigmore Street, London, who have the sole agency for the sale of Messrs. Collard and Collard's Pianos, and who have received a number of Instruments for sale, engaged at reasts, perfection of touch and workmanship, which will enable them to maintain the unbounded power of standing in case cannot be surpassed.
